INFORMATION FOR INITIAL I-20 APPLICANTS

How do I get an F-1 Visa? You apply for an F-1 Visa at the U.S. Consulate or Embassy closest to you. You should contact the Consulate to find out exactly what to bring with you. All applicants will be required to bring at least an I-20 form, financial documents, valid passport and SEVIS payment receipt.

How do I get an I-20 form? The International Language Institute, MD will issue an I-20 Form once you have completed the application form, paid our $75 fee and submitted appropriate financial documents and passport copies.

What financial documents are required? You must submit financial documentation in the form of bank statements, letter from a sponsoring agency, or affidavit of support to show that you have enough money for tuition and living expenses for at least $1,800 per month of study in the United States. You must submit a recent bank statement (less than 3 months old) as well as a letter of support from your sponsor, if applicable. We cannot accept letters from accountants in place of a bank statement.

Can I take a vacation on an F-1 Visa? The International Language Institute, MD, allows students in good standing to take one 4-week session off after completing four 4-week sessions, or two 4-week sessions off after completing 8 four-week sessions. If you need to take leave before successfully completing four 4-week sessions, you must submit your request in writing to the school director. All vacation requests must be submitted at least one week in advance. Approval is at the discretion of the school director.

Requirements

Before the International Language Institute, MD, is able to issue a Form I-20 (Certificate of Eligibility for Nonimmigrant (F-1) Student) for an initial applicant, the student must

- be admitted to the Intensive Program at the International Language Institute, MD
- make all payments at the time of application (we accept cash, checks, credit cards, PayPal, Western Union and bank wires)
- complete and submit the following documents to the School Director:

DOCUMENTS

1. Intensive Program Application
2. Financial documentation in the form of bank statements, letter from a sponsoring agency, or affidavit of support.
 - a. Bank statements (less than 3 months old) must include the name on the account, the currency, the date the account was opened and the current balance.
 - b. You may submit more than one bank statement to document multiple accounts.
 - c. All documents must be translated into English and amounts shown in US dollars.
3. Copy of valid passport with expiration date.

PAYMENTS

- | | |
|------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1. Application Fee | $75 |
| 2. Express Mail Fee, if applicable | $35-120 (varies depending on region) |
| 3. SEVIS I-901 fee (optional) | $350 |

Immigration Documents

All immigration regulations are handled by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) under the Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

Passport: You must make sure that your passport is valid for at least six months in the future. An expiring passport can be renewed or revalidated through your country's Embassy in Washington DC or Consulate in New York.

Visa: The visa is a stamp made in the passport by a U.S. Embassy or consulate outside the United States. It shows the number of entries you are permitted in and out of the United States, but does not determine the length of time you may remain in the United States. Remember that having a valid visa is necessary for entering and re-entering the U.S.

I-20 Form: This is a form given to F1 and F2 visa holders as a permanent record of your periods of stay in the U.S. Every time you plan to leave the country, you must have your I-20 form signed by the School Director in order to return to the United States.

Maintaining Student Status

Full-time Status: All F1 students must maintain full time status at all times. This means that International Language Institute students must be enrolled for a minimum of 20 hours per week. Once an international student has stopped taking at least 20 hours per week, he/she is out of status.

Travel: To travel outside the United States, an F1 student must have 3 things: a valid I-20 form with a recent signature from the Designated School Official (DSO), a valid passport, and a valid visa allowing for re-entry.

Program Extension: If F-1 students need to stay at the International Language Institute longer than the completion date on their I-20 forms in order to complete their studies, they should make an appointment to see the School Director BEFORE their I-20 expires.

Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS)

Every F visa holder must understand the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS), the new mechanism employed by the U.S. government to track the arrival, enrollment and departure of international students and their dependents. The International Language Institute, like every other school admitting international students in the United States, is using SEVIS.

SEVIS is an internet-based system that requires schools and the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS, formerly INS) to exchange data on the immigration and academic status of international students, scholars, and their dependents. Information pertaining to an F-1 or J-1 student, scholar, or dependent's stay in the United States is available to U.S. embassies and consulates as well as to the USCIS.

How SEVIS works:

1. After admitting an international student, the school enters data into SEVIS. If the USCIS approves the school's request to issue an I-20 (for F students), SEVIS creates the document. The school prints and sends the new bar-coded I-20 form to the student or dependent.
2. The student visits the U.S. consulate abroad, and the consulate confirms through SEVIS that the I-20 is a valid document. If everything is in order, the consulate can issue the visa.
3. A CBP officer at the airport reports the student's entry into the U.S. to SEVIS. When the student arrives, he/she reports to the International Language Institute and the school confirms the student's enrollment through SEVIS.
4. The International Language Institute continues to provide regular electronic reports to USCIS throughout the student's affiliation with us. Finally, SEVIS records the student's departure from the International Language Institute.

Data Schools must report

- Name, date of birth, country of birth, address, country of citizenship, source and amount of financial resources, academic program, level of study, program start and end dates.

- Enrollment or failure to enroll.
- A change of the student's or dependent's legal name or address.
- Graduation prior to the end date listed on the I-20.
- Academic or disciplinary actions taken due to criminal conviction.
- Registration for less than a full course of study without prior authorization.
- Termination date and reason for termination.
- Other data generated by standard procedures such as program extension, school transfer, change in level of study, employment authorization, and reinstatement.
- Failure to maintain status or complete the academic program or program objective.

Failure to maintain status: Examples of failure to maintain status include dropping from full-time to part-time enrollment, attending a school other than the one authorized to attend, failure to apply for a timely transfer or I-20 extension or change in level of study, unauthorized employment, and failure to report change of address.

Consequences of failure to maintain status: The student's or dependent's record will be updated in SEVIS every month and every time there is a change in any of the required data elements. Individuals who fail to maintain status lose the privileges of their student status and become subject to possible deportation. Specific consequences may include denial of re-entry to the U.S., denial of requests for employment authorization, denial of requests to change status, and possible denial of future visa applications. Ignorance of the regulations ("I didn't know"), unintentional neglect, and inadvertent oversight ("I forgot") have been explicitly rejected as excusable reasons for violations and cannot be used to support a reinstatement application. It is vital that you confer with the International Language Institute as often as needed to ensure you maintain valid F-1 status.

Prepare for SEVIS: The USCIS has information on their web site about SEVIS at <https://www.uscis.gov/>. Keep all documents up-to-date: changes in degree level, program extensions, and travel validations must be done in a timely manner and on SEVIS documents. Allow time for processing new forms.

- Understand immigration regulations, learn how to maintain lawful status in the U.S., and refer any questions or problems immediately to CIP.
- Be proactive. Plan your course schedules carefully so that you maintain full-time enrollment every semester.
- Make travel arrangements early, and anticipate delays at consulates and border crossings.

I-901 SEVIS Fee for Nonimmigrant Students

Beginning September 1, 2004, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) will collect a congressionally mandated fee to cover the costs of the Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP). International students and exchange visitors are subject to this fee, which will be used to administer and maintain the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS), support compliance activities, and establish SEVIS Liaison Officers establish SEVIS Liaison Officers to provide information and assistance to students and schools.

The payment of I-901 fees will be recorded and tracked in SEVIS, the automated system for collecting, maintaining, and managing information about nonimmigrant student and exchange visitors in the United States.

Who pays the fee? Those who wish to enter the United States either as a student with a Form I-20. Spouses and dependent children (F-2) of students do not pay this fee.

How much is the fee? $350

When do prospective students or exchange visitors pay the SEVIS fee?

- Applicants who require a visa to enter the United States must pay the SEVIS fee before going to the U.S. embassy or consulate for their visa interviews.

- Applicants who are citizens of Canada, Bermuda, Bahamas and residents of certain other islands (see 8 CFR 212.1a) wishing to apply for F-1, F-3, M-1, M-3, or J-1 status at a Port of Entry into the United States must pay the SEVIS fee before appearing at the Port of Entry.
- Non-immigrants currently in the United States who apply for student status must pay the fee prior to filing their change of status application.

How is the fee paid?

- Through the Internet at <https://www.fmifee.com/> by using a credit or debit card and completing the online Form I-901 (Fee for Remittance for Certain F, M, and J Non-immigrants); or
- Through the mail by submitting a completed Form I-901 and a check or money order drawn on a U.S. bank and payable in U.S. currency; or
- By a third party such as a school or sponsor.

When must the fee be paid? The fee must be paid to ensure that the payment can be deposited and recorded in SEVIS prior to the scheduled visa interview. The interviewing consular officer will confirm that the fee has been paid by accessing SEVIS. To allow for adequate processing time the fee must be paid:

- At least three business days prior to the visa interview date for electronic submissions.
- For regular mail submissions, 15 business days should be allowed before the scheduled visa interview. This time frame allows adequate time for the fee payment to be received at the DHS address listed on the Form I-901, deposited, and recorded in SEVIS.
- Add local mail processing times to these processing times for accuracy.

How will the payment be verified? The payment will be recorded in the SEVIS system. However, it is recommended that you retain a copy of your receipt and bring it to the visa interview. Having the receipt will make it easier to prove you have paid.

Arriving at a U.S. Port of Entry...What a student can expect

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement's Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP) is committed to facilitating your stay in the United States while you take advantage of our nation's academic, educational, and cultural offerings. To enhance security without slowing legitimate travel, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has instituted some changes in U.S. entry and exit procedures. Careful planning and preparation by international students can ensure that any delay based on these procedures is minimal.

Plan Your Arrival: You may be refused entry into the United States if you attempt to arrive more than 30 days before the program start date listed on your SEVIS I-20 form.

Always Hand-Carry Your Documents: If your baggage is lost or delayed, you will be unable to present the documents at your port of entry. As a result, you may not be able to enter the United States. Do not check the following documents in your baggage:

1. Your passport, valid for at least six months beyond the date of your expected stay;
2. Your immigration documents: When you receive your nonimmigrant visa at a U.S. embassy or consulate, the consular officer may seal your immigration documents in an envelope and attach it to your passport. You should not open this envelope! The Customs and Border Protection Officer at the U.S. Port of Entry will open the envelope; and
3. SEVIS Form I-20.

In addition, it is strongly recommended that you also hand carry the following documentation:

1. Evidence of financial resources;
2. Evidence of student status, such as the school's acceptance letter;
3. Paper receipt for the SEVIS fee, and
4. Name and contact information for your "Designated School Official".

Complete Your Entry Paperwork:

If Arriving By Air: The I-94 card is no longer necessary. The CBP now gathers travelers' arrival/departure information automatically from their electronic travel records.

If Arriving By Land or Sea: The CBP officer at the port of entry will provide the necessary Customs Declaration Forms (CF-6059) and Arrival-Departure Record Forms (I-94) to be filled out upon your arrival.

As You Arrive at the Port of Entry:

Proceed to the terminal area for arriving passengers. Have the following documents available for presentation: your passport; SEVIS Form (I-20); and Customs Declaration Form (CF-6059).

All visitors entering the United States must state their reason for wishing to enter the country. You will also be asked to provide information about your final destination. It is important that you tell the CBP Officer that you will be a student. Be prepared to include the name and address of the school program where you will enroll/participate.

Once your inspection is successfully completed, the inspecting officer will:

- Stamp your SEVIS Form for duration of status (“D/S”) for F visa holders

Following Admission into the United States:

Students should report to their school within 30 days of the date that appears on the SEVIS I-20 form to register for courses or to validate their intended participation. Failure to do so may result in serious consequences.

Additional Information:

Secondary Inspection Requirements: If the CBP officer at the port of entry cannot initially verify your information or you do not have all of the required documentation, you may be directed to an interview area known as “secondary inspection.” Secondary inspection allows inspectors to conduct additional research in order to verify information without causing delays for other arriving passengers.

The inspector will first attempt to verify your status by using the Student and Exchange and Visitor Information System (SEVIS). In the event that the CBP Officer needs to verify information with your school or program, we strongly recommend that you have the name and telephone number of the Designated School Official (DSO) at your school.

Failure to comply with U.S. government entry-exit procedures may result in your being denied entry to the United States. Under certain circumstances, the CBP officer may issue a “Notice to Student or Exchange Visitor” Form (I-515A), which authorizes temporary admission into the United States. Work with your school to submit the proper documentation without delay.

US-VISIT: All nonimmigrant visitors holding visas -- regardless of race, national origin, or religion -- participate in the US-VISIT program, a comprehensive registration system tracking entries to and exits from the United States. For more information: www.dhs.gov/dhspublic/interapp/editorial/editorial_0440.xml

National Security Entry-Exit Registration System (NSEERS): Some individuals may be asked to provide additional information under the National Security Entry-Exit Registration System (NSEERS). A packet of information will be available at each port of entry explaining the registration procedure. For more information: www.dhs.gov/dhspublic/interapp/editorial/editorial_0440.xml

Student Health Insurance

In the United States, individuals are responsible for paying for their own medical care costs. In general, these costs are very high. To prepare for the financial responsibility of unexpected illness or injury, all international students on F-1 visas at the International Language Institute should have health insurance. One of the companies offering health insurance for international students is Compass Benefits at <http://www.compassbenefit.com>.
